Introduction

On 21 September 2011 (Autumnal Equinox) a new universal cycle commenced, and it will be a significant time of change in both the social and personal settings. Unfortunately, the energy will be unprecedentedly harsh and both individuals and societies will find it difficult to effectively and constantly re-synchronise with the unfolding energy.

The significance of this new energy cycle is that it directly links with the past and with the past experiential cycles of individuals and societies; and past mistakes and unresolved issues will now directly form a substantial part of the foundation upon which our current challenges and problems rest. This is particularly true of our "broken western society" with everything crumbling (social, political, industrial, and economic). At the moment we are in a condition of deluded exploitation and at a time when group consciousness has become greater than the sum of its human parts. Unfortunately, this group consciousness desires to ensure its continued survival, and will do so, even to the detriment of some of its component parts.

In addition to society's self destructive tendencies, the new energy cycle's shifting profile will add to the on-going disintegration of society and its institutions (government, policing, economic, health, education, free-thought and self-determination). This unsettling energy cycle will be in focus, at least, until the 2nd half of 2026.

This is an unprecedented energy for us, and generally equates to the end or transformation of an established civilization or culture. Unfortunately, the signs are there, and the West's loss of control over its people, its social structures, its culture, and its direction is readily seen in the European and US situation.

What we are seeing is not random occurrences but is a predictable unfoldment based on cause and effect linked to past cycles. Unfortunately, it is unusual for cultures to learn from the past, and I do not see that happening in this case. However, I do not see the total collapse of our western world, but I do see the need for evolution into a more enlightened culture, and I can see this new energy cycle adding impetus to that evolution.

Overall, this new cycle, as from 21/09/2011, will prove to be a period of disharmony; but in terms of the eternal scheme of things it will also prove to be a time where new direction and opportunities can be explored and experienced.

Drugs and Illusion

For some time society has been exhibiting escapist, delusional, and denial tendencies - things have been particularly difficult for our western cultures with their institutionalised bloated government and public sector with its covert controls, lies, exploitation, and deceit. Consequently, increasing numbers of individuals, to deal with fear and stress and just trying to "cope", have been using drugs. Some of the drugs have been prescribed by the medical profession, but an alarming increase in the use of, addictive and illicit "recreational drugs" has been noted. Unfortunately, this trend of increasing drug dependency and escapism will continue, and it will be dramatically exploited by the elite, drug lords, and cartels (also governments will continue to turn a blind eye and only give lip-service to the problem - a dependent people are an easily controlled people).

This current cycle of illusion and escapism has already started, but will be particularly focussed from 12/05/2012 to 23/04/2026. Moreover, one of the major areas of activity will be Mexico/South America, where the "drug wars" will exponentially escalate and the violence seen thus far is but the merest shadow of that which is yet to come.

The new energy signature confirms that drug usage will be encouraged, with alcohol and chemical drugs for the goyim (human cattle), and the religious drug of "freedom and martyrdom" for various spiritual groups. Additionally, "Power", the drug of the elite will be aggressively sought after and carefully and covertly traded; but all of the elite will vigorously suppress the drug of "hope" which can grow into a harvest of revolution - masses without hope, who are dependent for their survival upon a provider (government, task-master, god, etc.), are readily controlled and exploited.

Thus the drug culture with its attendant dependency is clearly delineated for the next 14 years and will make expansive inroads at all levels of society. This cycle is not really new, and we can look back and see reflections thereof in the alcohol, opiates, and exploitation of the 18th and 19th centuries.

Governance

Today, never have so many individuals been suppressed, manipulated, and exploited by self-seeking corrupt governments and financial/industrial elitists. Unfortunately, the purpose of today's government is to ensure its own survival "at any cost".

As Lord Acton, in the 19th century observed, "Power tends to corrupt, and absolute power corrupts absolutely. Great men are almost always bad men."

Additionally, William Pitt, an 18th century British Prime Minister, noted that, "Unlimited power is apt to corrupt the minds of those who possess it."

Unfortunately, this is true today in every country and society across the globe. And the new unfolding energy is going to seriously exacerbate the situation. The good thing is that we no longer need to fear a future global conflict - it's upon us now, and we have already entered into a global feeding frenzy for power and dominion.

The universal key is to first instil "fear", then to instil faith in the populous that things will "get better" and that the populous will be "looked after" by a benevolent government, and thereby the populous can be "unconditionally exploited by consent". And this is the state we find ourselves in at this time.

Again we see today reflected in the past, and the decline of Rome:

For in that unnatural and bloated civilization [Rome], all that was noble in emulation was forbidden. Ambition in the regions of a despotic and luxurious court was but the contest of flattery and craft. Avarice had become the sole ambition, - men desired praetorships [senior magistrates ranking just below the consuls] and provinces only as the license to pillage, and government was but the excuse of rapine. It is in small states that glory is most active and pure, - the more confined the limits of the circle, the more ardent the patriotism. In small states, opinion is concentrated and strong, - every eye reads your actions - your public motives are blended with your private ties, - every spot in your narrow sphere is crowded with forms familiar since your childhood, - the applause of your citizens is like the caresses of your friends. But in large states, the city is but the court: the provinces - unknown to you, unfamiliar in customs, perhaps in language, - have no claim on your patriotism, the ancestry of their inhabitants is not yours. In the court you desire favour instead of glory; at a distance from the court, public opinion has vanished from you, and self-interest has no counterpoise.

Italy, Italy, while I write, your skies are over me - your seas flow beneath my feet, listen not to the blind policy which would unite all your crested cities, mourning for their republics, into one empire; false, pernicious delusion! Your only hope of regeneration is in division. Florence, Milan, Venice, Genoa, may be free once more, if each is free. But dream not of freedom for the whole while you enslave the parts; the heart must be the centre of the system, the blood must circulate freely everywhere; and in vast communities you behold but a bloated and feeble giant, whose brain is imbecile, whose limbs are dead, and who pays in disease and weakness the penalty of transcending the natural proportions of health and vigour.

("The Last Days of Pompeii", Lord Lytton, 1834)

As the new cycle unfolds, all will indeed be eclipsed by bloated public service that no longer serves the public; and in addition, the industrial "fat cats" will also be very, very active.

However, the prevailing view of the government regarding the populous is a simple one - that the masses remain what they have always been: stupid, gluttonous and forgetful.

Additionally, anyone who still trusts their own intelligence will now have great difficulty in filtering a picture of reality from the overwhelming volume of irrelevant, misleading, and untruthful reports. This is indeed a new age of euphemisms and half-truths. The elite have now recognised that the most effective means of clouding the people's awareness is not the obvious lie, but the careful manipulation of the truth.

What a western society we have become, in tearing ourselves apart with untenable multi-culturalism, we have killed the last remnants of any national identity. At any other time the masses would have risen up in violent protest; but not us - what pathetic riff-raff! What a dependent rabble! The elite have certainly got the measure of us.

Today, the elite in both the political and the financial spheres have a common ambition to remove every trace and vestige of national autonomy.

Conflict

Global conflict and war - a new and intense cycle will run from 06/10/12 to 20/12/2017. This will be the time when eyes will turn toward Iran; and because the "terrorist" card has been played to death, a new threat, a nuclear threat, will emerge as the new enemy. The period from 16/06/2014 to 28/09/2015 will be particularly critical with intensification of conflict throughout the world, but with emphasis in the Middle East (again Iran is a focus of conflict).

The new menace is an "enemy (with possible nuclear threat) that lurks everywhere" and a political "one size fits all" approach will be used. Consequently the threat of "suitcase" nuclear bombs will be introduced as well as contemporary terrorist techniques, and will very effectively keep the masses fearful (especially in the US and to a degree in Europe). Fortunately for the political elite this will be a perennial enemy that will never be defeated, and will maintain its threat almost indefinitely. As in the past, western governments, especially the US, need on-going and unwinnable wars as part of their power mandate. Thus we will see violent expansionism in terms of an "imperial group consciousness" which is also greater than the sum of its individual human parts - again, the period from 16/06/2014 to 28/09/2015 reflects this violent expansionism and will be a critical time.

As von Clausewitz said, "War is not merely a political act, but also a political instrument, a continuation of political relations, a carrying out of the same by other means."

Consequently, the new energy cycle, unless corrected or adapted to, will ensure that our greatest aspirations of expanding self and society will become our greatest depravity in the subjugation and exploitation of others - including the extermination (especially in the political sense) of all threatening, disruptive, insidiously invasive and unwanted, parasitical, and unproductive resources, etc.

Economic

The global economy stalled/flat-lined from 11/09/2011 and there will be little possibility of recovery before - 21/01/2013. The current economic cycle will continue to be critical, and the next possible upturn cycle will be from 27/11/2016 - 29/11/17. However, there will be little noticeable change at that time.

In consequence of the current cycle of delusion, quantitative easing (the printing of money by central banks) will continue to try and inject liquidity into the flat-lined economies. This will have little effect whatever, and in consequence of all economies being "dead", the current situation will continue infinitely.

However, the financial elite will use this time to very good advantage, and they will continue their onslaught upon the political elite and will further tighten their grip and control on "everything". There is a law irrevocably decreed in "Financial Heaven" whereby the greater/superior shall exploit the lesser/inferior to the greater benefit and advantage of the two, with little or no benefit accruing downward to the lesser. This is an interesting concept, and one which is also decreed in the "Political Heaven" as well! Consequently, we will see the continued battle between financial and political elites to the detriment of everyone else.

Nevertheless, a good period for financial speculation will open between 21/09/11 and 08/06/12; and another good period will open from 27/11/2016 to 29/11/2017.

Bad investment at this time would be currency speculation and European government bonds. Avoid all but German and Swiss Banks, and avoid everything in the UK.

Good investments are anything that links to human needs - food, energy, pharmaceuticals, technology (anything that needs semiconductors, especially photo voltaics), and military. Financial services are now of little worth, and government bonds must be selected with caution and intuition.

Are Gold and the like good for investment? Yes. But the market will fluctuate as the elite trade and continue to syphon gold reserves out of the political elite.

Gold is very important to the elite, and they have always employed their own gold standard, which they use, and have used, to manipulate everything (themselves as well as the rest of the world). Their economic strategies have always been based on a tangible and quantifiable foundation - gold - whereas everyone else is based on a worthless paper currency standard that is administered by crooks, liars, and exploiters.

At this time, none of the world's currencies have any real value whatever, and this is good, because this ensures that there will not, there cannot, be a global meltdown. Today, zeros are simply added to numbers in computers and quantitative easing magically ensues. However, there are rules, and the numbers of zeros that can be added must directly link to the number of "taxable heads" that any society possesses - unfortunately this has been abused by unscrupulous governments and the problems have been exacerbated. But, in reality, it is all an illusion, and the situation has now been reached with several EU states where sovereign debt can never be paid. Consequently, debts will be halved and the unending meaningless bailouts will continue, and the financial elite gain increasing control over the moronic and myopic political elite.

It's all a game, but the players have long forgotten that it's a game and they believe that they are altruistically watching over and helping man. Unfortunately, the reality is that man is being institutionally exploited to unprecedented levels and there is no end to this energy cycle in sight. The bottom line is that the west is bankrupt and has no tangible way (resources or manufacturing) to recover.

Invulnerability

One of the worrying aspects of this period of delusion that we are currently in and which will extend through 2026 is the political and financial elites belief in their own invulnerability, altruism, divine calling, and the superfluity of any accountability. Consequently, the political and financial elite will blunder forward, blinded by their delusions of omnipotence and invulnerability, without any consideration of cause and consequence, without any accountability, and an unprecedented driver for self-preservation at any cost - and I do mean at ANY COST.

The disquieting thing about the problems that we are facing is that they are all based in intangibles, and there are no ready solutions. Only a global shakedown resulting in new social structures, new methods of governance, a new system of global finance, universal equality, and a respect for life would solve the current position. Unfortunately, the prognosis for mankind, based on the current energy trends, is not good.

Africa

Africa has now devolved back into a primitive tribal society - the point of no return was reached 06/05/2005, and other than to be exploited of its natural resources, Africa has no role to play whatever on the world stage. Disease, conflict, and the inability to self-govern will grow exponentially. However, the outflow of natural resources at an all-time low price will continue, and Africa will continue to import and dump the world's toxic waste.

Within this current cycle only an evolutionary shift in Africa would turn the negative trend into a positive one. However, no such shift is indicated and the current genetic devolution will not only continue, but it will accelerate - this will be reflected in the continuing escalation of autoimmune conditions. Unfortunately, there is no "chemical" solution, and only resynchronisation of the individual's energy will resolve the situation.

Social Unrest

Social unrest will continue to ebb and flow, and the recent riots in the UK will become common recurrences, during the next two decades, throughout the world, and especially in Europe and the United States. The social unrest cycle will start to unfold from Nov 2011, then, during the 1st half of 2012, we will see escalating social unrest incidents, but these will be carefully played down by government spin through carefully edited media coverage. Social unrest is the symptom, poor governance is the disease.

Today, we now have the fruit of past misguidance, generations of people who have no identity, no employment, no ambition and no future, and the result is a natural return to the feral laws of the jungle. The elite's world is "dog eat dog" and the goyim's world is also "dog eat dog" - we do indeed live within a "one world philosophy".

The new energy cycle has strong social undercurrents for change and improvement; however, this will be covertly controlled and channelled into their own agendas by the governments. The problem is that since political ideology has now met in the political centre, there are also strong undercurrents for political change. However, the political parties will not let go of their crumbling power bases and the political scene will become the arena of unprecedented political civil war with, ironically, everyone fighting for the same thing. As there are no viable alternative political structures we will be in a form of "anarchical democratic fascism" for decades to come.

The light on the horizon is linked to a positive energy stream which runs from now to 11/04/2017, wherein transformational "new thinking" could positively impact on the current "evil structures". Unfortunately, there is no current social or political vehicle or mechanism that could utilize this energy to any great degree.

As George Orwell points out, "During times of universal deceit, telling the truth becomes a revolutionary act."

And that is what would be needed to effect positive change in our current situation - a global revolution of truth and accountability - and that just ain't going to happen.

Without social, political, and economic integrity and accountability the current greed, illusion, and exploitation by covert means will continue unabated. This coupled with an on-going energy outpouring of incitement will ensure social unrest for several years to come.

"All political thinking for years past has been vitiated in the same way. People can foresee the future only when it coincides with their own wishes, and the most grossly obvious facts can be ignored when they are unwelcome." (George Orwell)

Nevertheless, at the grass roots there will be strong idealism and strong desires for improvement and change to be manifested, and those currently in control are going to have to suppress all rebellious and unacceptable thoughts - and they will!

Even with suppression in place, possible transformations can still manifest - there is supportive energy manifesting up to the middle of 2016; however, those who currently hold the reins of power will not voluntarily give them up, and there is no desire by any of the elite circles for the goyim (the exploitable masses) to be anything other than an "ignorant" exploitable energy mass.

It is important to remember that there is no idealism in the ruling elite whether they be theocratic, monarchist, imperialistic, socialistic, fascistic, or just a big guy with a big club - within the elite there is only the drive to survive, to expand, and to remain unassailable, unquestioned, and unaccountable to anyone but themselves as the ruling elite.

There is a period from 02/04/2015 when the elite's intellectual control will weaken, and possible chinks could appear in their armour.

Health

During this new cycle, health issues will centre in the inability to eliminate toxins, bacterial and viral elements, and to ground the constant inflow of negative energy. This will result in health issues across the board and a dramatically increased mortality rate.

Respiratory complaints, immune system failure, elimination system failure, kidney and liver problems, and head issues (both physical and psychological) will predominate over the near and medium future.

One of the biggest health challenges will be the imprinting of disease through chemical medications. As symptoms, not causes are treated, the disease will be imprinted and the immune system compromised.

Auto-immune conditions such as AIDS will continue unabated, and the supposed breakthrough of a "miracle AIDS Vaccine" is nothing more than a pharmaceutical marketing ploy. Currently, antiretroviral drugs constitute, by far, the largest returns and need to be evolved into an even larger "cash cow". The next decade is going to be a very fertile time to prey upon the high degree of human suffering.

However, if an individual can synchronise with the unfolding energy, there will not be any serious health issues, and cellular rejuvenation can be effected. This is the beginning of a transformation cycle when individuals can indeed double their life span (the four keys).

The New Colossus

With the new cycle of 21/09/2011, a new colossus, the alliance between Russia and China, will emerge on the world stage and will begin a dominant presence that will greatly disquiet Europe and the United States. However, the increasing presence of the Russian/Chinese alliance will not help to solve the global economic crisis.

Additionally, an increasing impact and influence from the Russian/Chinese Alliance will be felt from 02/04/2015, and even the traditional Elite are going to be seriously challenged.

A new world dawns with Russia exercising influence and control through food, energy, organised crime, and political destabilization.

China will exercise influence and control through their economic muscle and manufacturing monopoly.

However, both Russia and China need the West and the rest of the world to exploit and buy their products; consequently, there will be significant international power shifts, but marginal impact on individual countries.

Conclusion

Where are we currently at? Our Western world is now a family with the wrong members in control.

Is it going to get better in the short to medium term? No.

What is the answer? Become personally as self-sufficient as possible, and avoid all dependencies - especially financial.

And most important of all - synchronise with the new unfolding universal energy through the adjustment of personal energy flow.

Summary of Key Dates:

From 06/05/2005 Africa reached a point of no return in its devolution back to a tribal society, and their new cycle commenced from 21/05/2010. Africa now exists in an isolated and a timeless state - only disease.

Greed, illusion, and exploitation by covert means is the modus operandi of the American and European elite in all areas of their endeavours - 21/09/2011 - 17/03/2016

Elite intellectual control weakens for a season - 26/12/2011 - 02/04/2015

New cycle of thinking - from 11/04/2017

Financial cycle bad - 11/09/2011 - 27/11/2016 when possible up-turn can occur

World economy stalled/flat-lined - 11/09/2011

No economic recovery possible before - 21/01/2013

Next economic cycle (possibly more positive) - 27/11/2016 - 29/11/2017

Health will be very difficult - 21/09/2011 to 26/06/2012 - then better if 4 keys applied. Allopathic imprinting is the great danger during this period and chemical medications should be especially minimised.

Global drug and dependency culture (Russia and China are capitalizing on this aspect) - 12/05/2012 - 23/04/2026

Disastrous government/elite covert control of the masses - now - 23/04/2026

War escalation - 06/10/2012 - 20/12/2017

Conflict in Middle East reaches a critical mass - 16/06/2014 to 28/09/2015

Society rebirth - 11/09/2037

Financial speculation (good) - 21/09/2011 to 08/06/2012

Financial speculation (good) - 27/11/2016 to 29/11/2017

Social strong desire for change - from 21/03/12 however all goyim push for change will be resisted

Increasing impact and influence of the Russian/Chinese Alliance - 02/04/2015

End
